-- A swordfish marketed in New Bedford, Mass., has embedded in its flesh the head of a harpoon that is supposed to have been there twenty years.

-From the summit of Mt. Rose in Nevada, 10,000 feet above the sea level, the waters of twenty-one lakes may be seen glistening among the forests of the Sierras.

-In the hippopotamus the eyes, ears and nostrils are all set on the same plane, which enables the animal to sink its body entirely below the surface of the water and yet keep thorougly informed as to its surroundings. A house still standing in Chicopee, Mass., is reported to be two hundred and twenty-five years old, and is probably the oldest dwelling in the commonwealth. It is in a good state of preservation and its present owner has occupied it fifty-seven years continuously.

-In an old Sag Harbor paper of the 12 cents; worth 20 cents. year 1804 appears the following: "The husband of a pieus woman having occasion to make a voyage, his wife sent a note to the parson to be read the next Sabbath in meeting: 'Jim Kenny having gone to see his wife desires the prayers of the congregation that he may mereifully be preserved from danger.' It is to be presumed that the good lady's orthography and punctuation were not altogether correct.

-Flexible sandstone is one of the curiosities found in North Carolina. The quarries are in the mountains of the southwestern corner of the state, and the stone is taken out more as a curiosity than for any other purpose, though it is sometimes employed in building. When cut in a thin piece, say the size and shape of a common whetstone, you can bend it into a consideable are without its breaking, and it will resume its former straightness on the pressure being removed. Of course, if you bend it too far, it will break.

 The homestead law of Texas some times acts harshly to creditors. A letter from Austin says that a cattleman failed a short time ago and the creditors took possession of the property, subject to attachment. The man's family live in a house for which they have been offered $50,000. The price asked is $75,-000. This is made possible by the peculiar homestead exemption law of Texas. The homestead can not be taken for debt. And the homestead is defined to be a piece of ground costing not more than $5,000 and whatever improvements there may be thereon. In this case the residence is the finest in the city where it is located. It is one of the finest in Texas. It cost more than $50,000, but it is entirely out of the reach of the creditors of the estate.
